

Australia Needs More Tax — Not Less

An Open Letter to our Political Leaders

Australia needs a stronger revenue base.

In order to fund the services and infrastructure that Australia needs, we need more tax — not less.

Our research shows that Australia is a low taxing country. In fact, we are one of the lowest taxing nations in the OECD.

Ultimately, business will best flourish if a decent, cohesive society is maintained.

In the lead up to the 2018 federal budget and the next federal election:

We call upon all political leaders to reject a tax cuts race to the bottom, and instead focus on tackling tax avoidance, closing tax loopholes, and unfair tax concessions in order to build a stronger revenue base for the nation.
