

In Conversation

Hosted by The Australia Institute

Senator Bob Brown and David McKnight

On media diversity and the power of media moguls

David McKnight is Associate Professor and Senior Research Fellow at the Journalism and Media Research Centre at the University of NSW, and a former journalist at The Sydney Morning Herald and ABC TV's Four Corners. He is the author of the new book, Rupert Murdoch: An investigation of political power which examines the recent phone hacking scandal and the influence of News Corporation.

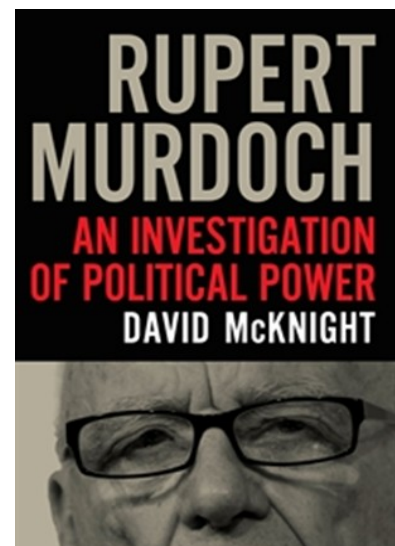

Senator Bob Brown is the Leader of the Australian Greens and a vocal advocate for the establishment of the Finkelstein inquiry into Australia's print media.

Sunday 18 March
5.30—6.30pm (drinks provided)
Manning Clark House Garden*
11 Tasmania Circle, Forrest

FREE—no RSVP required

*In the event of wet weather, the talk will be held in Manning Clark House and seats will be limited

David's book will be available for purchase

The Australia Institute

Research that matters.

www.tai.org.au

For more information call (02) 6206 8707 or email serena@tai.org.au