

00:17:14 Ahmad Masri: hello from Docklands, Victoria

00:17:43 Bev Majda: Hello all from Kurna Country (Adelaide Plains)

00:17:52 sheila pollard: Hi, all. from Sheila Melbourne.

00:17:53 juliette ford: Really looking forward to this ! Hello from Canberra :)

00:18:14 Anyes Marsault: Hello from Anyes - BNE

00:18:14 Margaret Tipper: Hello from lockdown in Parramatta on the lands of the Burramattagal People of the Darug Nation

00:18:24 Bev Majda: Fabulous work from Chanel!

00:18:25 Sarah Melia: Hello from Herefordshire, UK

00:18:37 Anyes Marsault: amazing work

00:18:51 Bev Majda: Welcome Sarah :)

00:18:56 Craig Taunton: I am on Dharug Land. (Bankstown)

00:19:04 Natasha Gallant: Hello, from Gadigal country (Bronte in Sydney)!

00:19:26 Merrindahl Andrew: Hello from Ngunnawal and Ngambri country (Canberra)

00:20:06 Claudia Iacovella: Hello from the Blue Mountains, Dharug and Gundungarra Country

00:20:07 Carlien Le Lacheur: Hello from Carlien on the Gold Coast where the Yugambeh people are the traditional custodians

00:20:39 Shauna Upton: Hi from Larrakia land 🙌

00:22:25 Heni Pancaningtyas: Hello from Jagera and Turrbal country (Brisbane)

00:24:33 Joan Murphy: Hi from Turrubal country.

00:25:30 Erin Brandall: Hi from Lutruwita country

00:25:42 Bronwyn Currie: Hello from Boonwurrung land

00:26:20 Joel Mackay: Hi everyone, from Gundungurra country — thank you for today's webinar.

00:28:49 Bev Majda: If only .... if only .... we had this awareness and debate and conversation in the 70s and 80s

00:29:14 Jane Ellul: even the awareness in the 90's

00:29:38 Bev Majda: So true Jane

00:31:09 Julianne McKeon: Good question Ebony and I'm shocked by Chanel's response. So frightening.

Chat Log: Understanding Consent
Recorded live on 12 August 2021

00:32:01 Jane Ellul: it is scary how it become the norm in the school space

00:34:00 Graeme Tychsen: it

00:35:41 Graeme Tychsen: it is a violent society - see aged disabled vulnerable coward punches all underpinned by soaring self entitlement.

00:36:00 Anyes Marsault: Men education around compassion is paramount

00:36:10 Doug Clark: Great session Ebony and thank-you and well done Chanel. Look forward to the next one on 'What's he doing now, 10 years later'. Keep going! chs doug

00:36:27 Anyes Marsault: must start when boys are very young boys

00:37:37 Graeme Tychsen: Speaking of the land of the lord of the flies a close friend psychologist of teacher parents once thought education was the key to much 'not any more both of us just shake our heads.

00:40:40 Graeme Tychsen: plight of the vulnerable has vastly grown worse since the 60s, this is a pecking order society and women head the list of who will be pecked. Nothing short of horror look at the parliament house culture

00:42:26 Graeme Tychsen: Stats don't surprise me at all. a storm on the teacup we will see.

00:42:36 HELEN Lum: very true, Anyes Marsault

00:44:55 Graeme Tychsen: AngloSaxon societies strike me as especially bullying and racist

00:46:28 ann Wood: reporting is but the first rung on the ladder. what about the legal processes that prevent victims of sexual assault getting justice.

00:48:39 Pamela Kinnear: The book SEXUAL CITIZENS (Hirsch & Khan) strongly supports Chanel's early and holistic approach. We need to help boys and girls and their parents understand how being a citizen (not just a subject) involves agency and respect for others. This then—as Chanel says—becomes a foundation for sexual citizenship with respect, consent, etc

00:50:19 Jane Ellul: yes that is true

00:51:02 Ruth Smith: 'welcome to consent' by Yumi Styne and Dr Melissa Kang is an engaging and informative read for all young people.

00:54:15 Graeme Tychsen: people's lives should be local based as a starting point and less moving around for a new place to live.

00:56:08 Gina Rizakos: If you teach people under 18 years old in NSW you must have a valid working with children check. This is why reporting is also important so that there is a record.

00:56:55 Daniel Principe: Did the important comments about the role of pornography in feeling rape culture get deleted?

00:57:14 Louise Schaper: Reflecting on my youth, I was never in any doubt on consent. But I had no language/confidence/framework for how to respond to people and situations where there was a lack of consent, sexual degradation and rape happening to others. It's something I've always regretted - that I wasn't able to help other young women. So pleased to see Chantel's approach to

Chat Log: Understanding Consent
Recorded live on 12 August 2021

including education on how to respond to perpetrators when you are not the 'victim' but the observer.

00:57:55 Graeme Tychsen: Maybe if schooling is effective the day will come when it can be more family based/

00:58:46 Louise Schaper: We need more female representation everywhere throughout society - especially in positions of power!

00:59:34 Graeme Tychsen: Yes

01:00:04 Ahmad Masri: females are the creators, of course we need more females.

01:00:12 Louise Schaper: Just yesterday - Brad Hazzard's treatment of Dr Chant was so appalling - imagine what he must be like 'in private', if he thought it was appropriate to behave that way in public. I'm so over this shit!

01:00:16 Miriam D'Souza: Currently reading Julia Banks and Power Play. Shocking.

01:00:25 Freya Higgins-desbiolles: It is so wonderful seeing a young woman leading such positive change and impacting policy. Well done.

01:00:47 Graeme Tychsen: yes Louise

01:01:30 Graeme Tychsen: Miriam status quo

01:06:01 melina smith: Louise..they do it as they know they can get away with IT!!

01:07:33 Courtney Venaglia: It's important that everyone who is capable in our society be involved in dismantling rap culture and the minimising of rape / sexual assault

01:07:41 Courtney Venaglia: *rape culture

01:07:50 melina smith: Chanel's poor brain must be fried..lol

01:08:27 Ahmad Masri: very true...

01:09:30 Tara Greenall: Most men are amazing. I know a lot of men that would support change.

01:10:21 Mary Skitt: perhaps they need to start their own movement for change!

01:10:39 Courtney Venaglia: Hear hear

01:10:54 Gina Rizakos: People who have power have a hard time letting go (whether male or female); It looks like it's time that these power structures need to be 'let go of'. Consent is part of that too.

01:12:31 Ahmad Masri: remember the recent training at the Parliament. an optional one hour of training on sexual assault for the staff.

01:12:36 melina smith: Yes Gina..they lose all their Perks and status..

01:12:38 Graeme Tychsen: Gina . the world is full of control freaks.

01:13:11 Jody Taylor: 1800 Respect national helpline 1800 737 732

01:13:31 Freya Higgins-desbiolles: Thanks for organising this talk. Thanks, Chanel.

Chat Log: Understanding Consent
Recorded live on 12 August 2021

01:13:42 Miriam D'Souza: Post-London, need to see Chanel in Federal Parliament, doesn't matter which party

01:13:46 Marita Hagel: amazing work Chanel!

01:13:56 Adam Hegedus: Well done Chanel, immensely proud and well spoken.

01:13:59 Natasha Gallant: Amazing work Chanel! Thank you so much

01:14:03 Victoria Oettel: Thank you so very much Chanel and Ebony and the Australia Institute

01:14:06 melina smith: She and Grace Tame should form a political party!!

01:14:10 Ruth Smith: Thank you! Inspiring work Chanel!

01:14:11 Jane Ellul: Thankyou so much Chanel, you are doing amazing job showing light in this subject

01:14:18 Craig Taunton: VOTE1 Chanel

01:14:18 Margaret Tipper: Thank you

01:14:18 Lisa Wheildon: Thank you so much Chanel and The Australia Institute!

01:14:19 Cherie Brandon: Amazing work! Thank you Chanel!

01:14:20 Kathie Fetterplace: Thanks so much Chanel and Ebony

01:14:23 Mei Ling Doery: Thank you!!

01:14:24 Jack Desbiolles: Thank you so much Chanel and Ebony for this opportunity to hear from some amazing leadership,

01:14:26 Caecilia Roth: Thanks Chanel and best of luck with your future work

01:14:33 Jude Burger: Thank you Chanel and AI

01:14:34 Timmee Grinham: Thank you so much Chanel and Ebony.

01:14:34 Tara Greenall: Thank so much Chanal. Good luck with you masters, and have an amazing time in wonderful London.

01:14:34 Ali Llmb: thank you both for a really important conversation

01:14:34 Laura Maas: Thank you and well done Chanel.. You are inspirational!

01:14:38 Margaret Potts: Thank you very much, Chantal for your ideas actions.Margaret

01:14:41 Louise Schaper: Thanks Ebony and Chanel. Love your work.

01:14:46 Bek Garrett: Thank you!

01:14:46 Ahmad Masri: thank you very much 🙏

01:14:47 Ailsa Pender: Thank you - a really brilliant dialogue on the issues!

01:14:47 Timmee Grinham: Good time for the event - for those of us who work during the day (regardless of lockdown!)

Chat Log: Understanding Consent

Recorded live on 12 August 2021

01:14:51        Melissa Morris: Thank you- well done Chanel

01:14:55        Susanne Newton:        awesome session thank you1

01:14:55        HELEN Lum:        Good luck with your Masters, Chanel

01:15:02        Katie Bird:        Thank you, Chanel, you always speak so well! Consent Labs 😊

01:15:04        Louise Schaper: Fab books highlighted Ebony. Couldn't see Econobabble there though :-)

01:15:05        Merrill O'Donnell:        thank you

01:15:10        Steve Khouw:        Rape culture? Please explain. A social behaviour found in human societies whereby rape is the norm?

01:15:14        Dayle Osborn:        Thankyou

01:15:35        melina smith:        GIRL POWER !! Great discussion everyone. xx

01:15:38        Fabiane Ramos: Thank you!

01:15:40        Timmee Grinham:        Yep - get vaccinated everyone!

01:15:41        Macedonia Contos:        Well done Chanel, very proud of you x