- 00:35:25 debra judge: Hello from American/Australian living on Noongar Whadjuk booja.
- 00:35:27 Nina Sawicki: I am nervous about our new national leader :(
- 00:35:30 Beat Huser: Kia Ora also from Aotearoa New Zealand
- 00:36:16 Eric Pozza: Nina What are your concerns on our "new national leader"?
- 00:36:34 Eric Pozza: I guess you mean Albanese
- 00:36:41 Elisa Bone: Yes to science as a public good! It should be supported as such.
- 00:37:19 Simon Winchester: I did my PhD (UNE 2021) on how a perditious economic ideology gets embraced by society. What Prof. S is talking about it this type of process. And it generally leads to catastrophe.
- 00:37:49 Cate Cooper: That's the plan. Less educated citizenry means they are more likely to believe the spin, as the don't have enough exposure to critical thinking
- 00:37:52 Peter Thornton: Joseph, would you agree that in Adams Smiths' Wealth of Nations he actually advocates for the mobility of Labour, not Capital. Unfortunately, Capital has become more mobile, and so, it packs up its bongos and chases low input costs such as Labour in China and other such economies?

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

00:37:52 Stephen Dunn: As stated, all we have today is the product of science. Scientists get paid a pittance to discover the future, engineers get lots to implement the known.

00:38:36 Suzanne Rogers: Health, education often starts with making sure we have a stable roof overhead. Housing is a need and our gov't should be doing it's best to make sure housing is available to all

00:38:48 Nina Sawicki: His perception of poor people" bottom feeders " and his stance that public transport has to pay its way before funding it adequately

00:38:52 B. Steven Wilson: A lot of this is uncontentious from a supply-side perspective, it's basic economics.

00:39:20 SUE MANDLEY: just found it Simon - thanks

00:39:31 Kate Crawford: Think we all need to hat more from Simon Winchester about his PhD.

00:39:41 Peter Thornton:Richard, Smith's "invisible hand" works hand in hand with my previous comment, that the individual should have had the upper hand in the mobility of Labour

00:39:41 Kate Crawford: Hear.

00:40:10 Ken McGrath: it hasn't failed for those who control it!

00:40:31 Cate Cooper: Jeff Bezos is not complaining

00:40:36 Kelli C: Have briefly viewed CASSE's steady state economy idea Matthew and glad you mentioned it.

00:41:03 Suzanne Rogers: One World economics has not worked generally.

00:41:13 Eric Pozza: Ken, interesting observation! "Neoliberalism hasn't failed for those who control it."

00:41:26 Kate Crawford: And that is productive?

00:41:34 Sally Faisandier:Not sure steady state is enough to aim for anymore... we need carbon-negative economy... cf degrowth of energy + economy

00:41:35 Kelli C: I agree Kate - would be very interesting to read the summary

00:41:36 Simon Winchester: Both parties in Australia are still talking about budget responsibility is about less government! We won't get out of this slump unless we change the way we think. But Gramsci says there are no civil institutions to offer a platform to do this!

00:41:54 David Gilchrist: I think we need to stop trying to find THE ideological solution and find a solution for each problem - a mixed economy stewarded using real evidence can work!

00:42:22 Peter Thornton:sadly, Adam Smith's economic ideals and axioms have been hijacked.

00:42:27 Philip Kalogeras: we have spend 40 years promoting efficiency over resilience

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

00:42:39 Michael Cooney: Must say that while markets are imperfect there does seem to be an understatement of how efficient markets are at distribution of goods. Science got us intranet but markets got us home wifi.

00:42:46 Cate Cooper: So have Karl Marx;s @Peter

00:42:54 Matthew Washington: There is a wealth of literature from Herman Daly and many others (Joshua Farley etc) on the value of edgrowth and the good sense of transitioning to a steady State economy. Its NOT NO GRowth at all its just not destructive growth or "Ilth" as Daly calls it that is a big part of the problem,

00:43:00 Kirsten Green: The CSIRO got us wifi

00:43:10 Simon Winchester: David, maybe yes ... but I worry the past 'solution' was authoritarianism. And look where that went in the past.

00:43:11 David Gilchrist: CSIRO got us WIFI

00:43:17 Philip Kalogeras: And listening to a dysfunctional productivity comission

00:43:46 Michael Cooney: If the government held the risk for corporations that seems to be a more of a monopoly of risk than private entities. Just my two cents.

00:43:47 Cate Cooper: To each as much as they need. From each as much they can give.

00:43:50 Judith Hudson: 🙌 CSIRO

00:43:56 Ken McGrath: great point Richard

00:44:03 Paul Manoharan: The Garden of Eden is for all:-)!

00:44:04 Kate Crawford: Agree. And now we need to switch focus to resilience and more diverse patterns of problem solving and innovation.

00:44:11 David Gilchrist: Simon, my point is that there is not one solution based on one ideology. Additionally, both markets economies and communist economies have resulted in authoritarian governments.

00:44:11 B. Steven Wilson: Well, what if the Chicago School was just right?

00:44:32 Sam Mackay: I agree that we don't have a free market economy. Many corps and individuals used free market to generate wealth and power in the market - they now go against those principles to protect their established position.

00:45:02 Simon Winchester: The Left is cluttered with multiple aspirations. The right is only about money and power. That is what neoliberalism is all about and why it gets traction.

00:45:08 Cate Cooper: Shareholders vs Employees?

00:45:09 Suzanne Rogers: Profit is not eternal

00:45:15 jennifer manson: Marketing continually rules, even when the product or idea has problems. Microsoft is a perfect example.

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

- 00:45:28 Philip Kalogeras: if the Chicago school was right we should have seen rampant inflation in 2012
- 00:46:07 Stephen Masters: This is all simply brilliant.
- 00:46:15 Simon Winchester: Chicago does not have to be right so long as they can convince the masses that they are right
- 00:46:19 Jim Feehely: That is exactly what is wrong with our corporate law: only shareholders matter, not the environment, not society etc.
- 00:46:21 Eric Pozza: What if the Chicago school was just right" Depends what you measure, too. If it's just GDP maybe they are right. If it's welfare, housing ,poverty etc, perhaps wrong. These are political/ethical issues
- 00:46:29 Cate Cooper: It's Ok Richard, you can turn your chair a bit. You look so uncomfortable!
- 00:46:46 Graham Wood: True. Jim.
- 00:47:04 Peter Temby: 😂
- 00:47:10 Fred Sim: Didn't all that neo liberal propaganda start from James McGill Buchanan who had the financial support of the Koch brothers to "seed" multiple think tanks and started with the intention to privatise education to enable racial segregation by putting a cost to education
- 00:47:23 Louise Steer: The Chicago School is so influential because it reinforces the biases and desires of the one percent
- 00:47:27 Michael Cooney: Fair point Jim. While markets are good at producing profit they are not good at doing what is good.
- 00:47:28 Vincent: Simon W, sound concern, however the current western democracies are far from democratic, owned by the corporatocracy, and it can be argued are centrally managed by the financial elite.
- 00:48:10 B. Steven Wilson: The one percent own on Wall Street, media and big tech. They hate free markets.
- 00:48:10 Simon Winchester: Vincent, yes. Just because we can vote, does not mean we have a democracy.
- 00:48:15 Ken McGrath: we don't live in a democracy we live in an oligarchy, gov of the many by the few for the few
- 00:48:37 Matthew Washington: Yes the "free market" does not exist as such. Of course it relies on rules (commercial law etc) and regulations. But a market is useful for allocation of goods and services. But the point is there needs to be a balance . Gailbraith had a lot of sparring with Friedman tooo but the Chicago school became dominant. Very unfortunate..
- 00:48:45 Susan Rockliff: Please stop chattering, and listen!!

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

- 00:49:06 Peter Thornton: Indeed Philip Kalogeras. The Productivity Commission is nothing more than a tertiary policy arm of Government. It suffers severely from its own confirmation bias'.
- 00:49:06 Sally Moseby: Must read - 'Dark Money' by Jane Mayer
- 00:49:07 Cate Cooper: Sadly true @Ken. Lets hope there's a shift in public perception
- 00:49:12 Syed Kazmi: In Australia we have a problem with efficiency and productivity, too often productivity problems are shorthand for wages being too high but actually we have a shortage of enterprise skill to find and iterate solutions. Essentially Australian industry is largely rent seeking and lacks a capacity to innovate or iterate improvements to existing process. The tendency towards monopoly in western economies in general is driven by economies of scale but sadly barriers to entry are reducing competition once those monopolies are formed such that there is no economic advantage to innovation. Government can encourage competition rather than enforcing monopoly but the increasing capture of policy by industry has stymied this over the previous decade. If we are talking about reform there is a good argument to increase wages and thereby create an economic force pushing companies towards innovation as a means of survival.
- 00:49:19 Patricia Hamilton: Hello from Merimbula
- 00:49:20 B. Steven Wilson: Agree, we don't live in a democracy, it's an oligarchy.
- 00:49:21 Philip Kalogeras: the Buchanan/Koch nexus, was the start of the Virginia school, and seeding economists into the Ivy league schools. Koch was concerned that a majority of normal voters could strip them of all their assets
- 00:49:30 Peter McBeath: Neoliberal economic model has been amazingly successful! Achieved exactly what it set out to do. It has been a disaster for Social, Environmental and Economic justice for nearly everyone in the world. We need to overturn and reverse the changes that it has made. Time for trickle up theory and equitable wealth distribution, wealth cap etc
- 00:49:36 Suzanne Rogers: All the more need for Universal income
- 00:50:08 Sally Faisandier: Have a look at Universal Basic Services, Suzanne
- 00:50:10 Cate Cooper: Spot on @Peter
- 00:50:22 Paul Manoharan: Sadly, the architecture of capitalism continues to find fortune at the bottom of the pyramid! that
- 00:50:23 Jim Feehely: Another evil perpetrated by corporate culture is the limitation on employees being able to fully participate in democracy.
- 00:50:32 Greg ("Darwin", Larrakia country, Australia): It's a problem when "free-market competition" tries to restrict competition.
- 00:50:53 Kate Morris: When I was a teacher I would say to my kids that neoliberalist marketisation shifted the roles from being citizens with rights and responsibilities to being consumers who have to purchase the right life. If you don't spend your money properly then your life is your fault.
- 00:50:53 Dave Rae: @Fred Democracy in Chains is a good read on Buchanan

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

00:51:02 Paul Manoharan: Sadly, the architecture of capitalism continues to find fortune at the bottom of the pyramid! That needs to change!!

00:51:21 Hamilton Walker: crazy to increase wages and fuel inflation

00:51:34 Nina Sawicki: Agree Paul :(

00:51:47 William Gye: Good McGill Buchanan article
<https://www.theatlantic.com/magazine/archive/2017/07/the-architect-of-the-radical-right/528672/>

00:51:47 Cate Cooper: Lets all starve and freeze instead @Hamilton. So much fun!

00:51:54 Leighton Hunziker: Our rules and laws were largely constructed from a faith based perspective, where a lot of matters that would now be deemed a "social contract" were implicit in the business operations and weren't legislated (and yes there were exceptions). In the main, tha tworked.

00:51:59 Samir Trabelsi: Thank you so much for this great session! What do you think of the effectiveness of increasing the interest rate to fight inflation in emerging countries (Sirilanka, Tunisia, Egypt) that are having hard time funding their budget deficit! Don't you think that raising the interest rate could destroy the investment?

00:52:15 Greg ("Darwin", Larrakia country, Australia): Netter to have a big fat recession and get cost of living back under control.

00:52:20 Hamilton Walker: interest rate increase slows down inflation but government giving too much handout due to covid19 has fueled inflation

00:52:22 Syed Kazmi: Wages are not driving inflation, they are responding to it.

00:52:22 jennifer manson: Hamilton, wages a small proportion of most business costs so not the driver of inflation.

00:52:40 Hamilton Walker: wages are highest proportion of costs

00:52:47 Jim Feehely: Spot on Kate Morris. It is the objective of Capitalism to atomise society into consumers, not organised participants in democracy. That is why the right is so terrified of organisations like GetUp!

00:52:48 Philip Kalogeras: Is our federal treasurer, or health minister on this call?

00:52:52 Leighton Hunziker: However, in a post truth pluralistic society we are now having to legislate "love thy neighbour" which will nto work. because Love can't be legislated!

00:52:52 Darren Poinen: Inflation at present is from Deman, Supply and above all now Crowding out !!!! The perfect mixture for the perfect storm !!!!

00:52:58 Hamilton Walker: labour is so costly

00:53:02 Stephen Nolan: Only fools and deceitful employers claim wage increases cause inflation.

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

- 00:53:03 Annette Fisher: What can we do for the poor, single mothers, refugees?
- 00:53:30 Annamarie Newton: COVID has seen the need to have a flexible workplace. Moving forward, are workplaces going to be able to sustain these new accommodations for employees? or are they going to be short-term?
- 00:53:44 Hamilton Walker: I am self employed and if I charge more by putting my wages up will kill the orders
- 00:53:47 Simon Winchester: Inflation is exogenous and, thus rate hikes will not reduce it, but will cause recession. Come on in Stagflation.
- 00:53:49 jennifer manson: Absolutely wrong Hamilton, except perhaps in hospitality.
- 00:53:56 Suzanne Rogers: HW - LNP have been gaslighting for decades. Highset economic debt has come from Howard and now Scotty.
- 00:54:22 Hamilton Walker: this is so left this forum
- 00:54:23 Paul Manoharan: The business of Labour arbitrage is clothed in a different skin! We need to fix this.
- 00:54:27 B. Steven Wilson: Cheap imported labour undercutting local wages and conditions is a major issue in Australia.
- 00:54:30 Peter Temby: if people cannot afford to buy then who buys the good that companies make. Raise wages to allow spending. Major growth in wages, GDP and standard of living in the 60-s due to wages growth and more consumption
- 00:54:34 Annette Fisher: Meanwhile the ordinary people are going to loose their homes
- 00:54:52 Matthew Washington: Dare I mention Modern Monetary theory? It seems it could be a way that neoliberal claims for a need for restrictions on providing good services to the poor, or redressing environmental problems (because it costs too much) can be disregarded . Hence MMT could help to propel progressive economic and social change !
- 00:55:04 Hugh Brown: Hamilton; welcome to reality, as opposed to the myths the right sells ...
- 00:55:04 Anne Roseby: Gee I guess if you own a business that can only survive by not paying your employees wages, then perhaps your business needs to close
- 00:55:04 jennifer manson: Hamilton, even in hospitality a huge cost is in the premises, the fitout, the rent, equipment, advertising etc.
- 00:55:19 Peter McBeath: Can Joe provide an improved economic mechanism that can address Climate Change matters? Carbon economy? Clearly Neoliberal approach has turbo charged the impact of Climate Change and will continue to do so exponentially.
- 00:56:29 Simon Winchester: We tried a resource rent tax and Gillard folded on this
- 00:56:31 Jim Feehely: Whilst I despise the intellectual dishonesty of economists that reify 'the market', at least Joe and Richard understand that we do not live in an economy, we live in a society, in communities. And the economy must be made to serve society. For too long we citizens have been made to serve the economy.

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

00:56:43 Geoffrey Cains: Hooray A tax on windfall profits!

00:56:52 Cate Cooper: +++ Jim

00:57:20 Jon Wicks: Windfall profit tax. Yes!

00:57:42 Mary Coupland: RD - "...in Australia we are importing price increases and exporting profits"

00:57:44 Syed Kazmi: Allowing gas companies to write off development costs against profits for time immemorial is absolutely insane policy.

00:57:48 Manuela Malaguti: An economy of wellbeing!

00:57:56 Fred Sim: reminds me of what Richard mentioned many times before - privatising profit and socialising risk

00:58:05 Jim Feehely: In a wellbeing framework, the first thing should be a windfall profits tax!

00:58:12 Simon Winchester: UK Tories did it, Aust Labor party would be too gutless . viz Resources Rent tax in the past.

00:58:34 William Gye: Wellbeing economy bring it on! <https://weall.org/>

00:58:34 Di Wykes: Couldn't agree more @Manuela!

00:58:38 Colin Wedd: a windfall tax can't be on profits, it has to be on the difference between normal and now in terms of sales. Profits will just get eaten up by the usual complexity of company ownership by offshore tax havens. It has to be on price difference.

00:59:12 Jim Feehely: I suggest that Labor has not yet realised how courageous and innovative it can now be with the radical backing of the cross bench.

00:59:30 William Gye: Agree

00:59:31 Matthew Washington: Yes this was a Labor policy opposed by the Minerals council . remember "Keep Mining strong"? So this has been legislated policy in the past ! The conservative press chimed in to confuse and make a hysterical fuss about large corporates paying a little more when they could well afford it.

00:59:31 Fred Sim: GDP is simply a measure of production. It was never created to be a measure of progress. The creator of the concept said so explicitly

00:59:42 jennifer manson: The LNP still believes the economy is more important than people's wellbeing. Surely the government is about providing for its people, not providing for the economy, nor for the wealthy whilst ignoring those in need.

00:59:43 Cari Taylor: agree @William Gye

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

01:00:00 Tiffany Ellis: If our government creates and then relies on a windfall profits tax, to prop up the economy will this encourage the ongoing export of gas and coal? Unless this tax is used to accelerate our transition to renewables? which will directly improve peoples cost of living.

01:00:01 SUE MANDLEY: agree Jennifer

01:00:19 Peter Temby: I think the cross bench is actually not particularly radical, just we have had 2 right wing parties sparring about how each can be tougher than the other.

01:00:22 Bronwyn Reid: The problem with the Resources Rent tax was the way the ALP went about it. I live in a resources-dominated area. Our local economy came to a screeching dead halt with the uncertainty. That had social and community consequences.

01:00:23 Simon Winchester: Colin, good point, however we must realise that the resources belong to the people of Australia. They must be taxes to pay for infrastructure for the future generations.

01:00:39 jennifer manson: I like Stiglitz Freudian slip - Jeff Bozos, not Bezos!

01:00:46 Annette Fisher: What can we do to stop people living on the streets, having rotten teeth and anchildren ,youth and young adults can get a decent education

01:00:59 Sam Mackay: Q for J.S. and others should they wish. Stern famously stated that climate change is our greatest market failure. Would you agree that markets and market systems are a key vehicle for driving climate action, we just don't have the right values and conditions in place to use markets for the benefit of society?

01:00:59 Peter McBeath: Resources Tax is essential for balancing cost of living issues. We should nationalise our resources sector now!

01:01:02 Sam Mackay: BTW - there is a famous saying in development economics, 'markets are not innately good or bad, just a reflection of the values and conditions in which they operate

01:01:09 Michael Cooney: @anette not everyone can be helped unfortunately but we should do more.

01:01:38 Philip Kalogeras: if the market doesn't want to buy what you have to sell at the price you need to charge for it - that the "invisible hand of the market" sending you a signal that your product service is not meeting a market need and you should move your capital elsewhere - or it could

01:02:15 Matthew Washington: Our Royalty system imposes woefully low amounts to pay Australian Citizens for loss of its assets.

01:02:16 John Millar: As long as weapons production is included in GDP, it is meaningless as a measure of national progress

01:02:30 Colin Wedd: The only people who were to gain from a resources rent tax is everyone in the bloody country. The sight of Twiggy and Gina the Hut dressed in hi viz on the back of a truck doing the "sky will fall in" was hilarious yet everyone bought it.

- 01:02:36 Brent Bailey: This would be very interesting if my internet connection could keep up with it. Such are the problems of living in a rural area. The internet was going to be fibre to the home but never happened. I'm gone
- 01:02:58 Simon Winchester: Spot on Colin
- 01:03:08 Philip Kalogeras: ... be a a competitor undercutting you by stealing employee wages, or large companies who tend to monopoly squeezing you out of the market...
- 01:03:36 Jim Feehely: Capitalism demands an underclass of unemployed and underemployed: see Marx.
- 01:03:43 Lynette Molyneaux: The essence of a man is his labour - Karl Marx
- 01:04:00 Cate Cooper: +++
- 01:04:20 Suzanne Rogers: Question - With the current developments in robotics do we really need people to do tasks? We are replacing people in everything from production to services.
- 01:04:21 Ken McGrath: we need to broaden the definition of work for ex looking after my Gkids so daughter can work is not considered "work" by the dole office
- 01:04:30 Mike Aubrey:
- 01:04:33 Colin Wedd: Brent, you know who to blame for your plight, they were in power for 9 years and completely stuffed the NBN which has cost more than Labor's costings
- 01:05:17 Simon Winchester: This is the segregation of parts of society aka Polanyi and Fred Block who are not seen as contributing as being excluded from society. But who decides on who is in and who out?
- 01:06:27 Cate Cooper: Congress people are generally wealthy
- 01:06:33 Lynette Molyneaux: News organisations with loudhailers like Murdoch's, are also against tax increases
- 01:06:51 Cate Cooper: And the foolish readers believe
- 01:07:06 eva cox: This is a very macho version of the world that ignores the lives we live while not at paid work. what about social relatons, well being, care etc that are largely unpaid and survivsl rewarded. eva cox
- 01:07:08 jennifer manson: Good point Lynette. Unsurprising given the wealth of the owners.
- 01:07:26 Judy SINGER: Many people cannot work because of disability, carer responsibilities, or because they haven't found their metier yet. Should we fight for a right NOT to work? Are we turning Work into a Sacred Cow, that prevents individuals to self-organise creatively. Do we need a National Volunteer Increment a tier abpve the penison and one below paid work (belatedly entered as question)
- 01:07:29 Margaret Tipper: Thanks Eva, well said
- 01:07:32 Mike Aubrey: unstable connection...nme

- 01:07:36 Myrana Wahlqvist: What a lesson on the power of vested & otherwise entrenched interests vis a vis the needs of a broad range of society...
- 01:08:02 Kelli C: I think you raise interesting and important point Judy
- 01:08:09 Pamela Collett: Universal Basic Income better than a job guarantee
- 01:08:11 SUE MANDLEY: great comment Eva
- 01:08:21 Janet Grevillea: Eva thank you for introducing our lives into this discussion.
- 01:08:39 Cate Cooper: well said Judy!
- 01:08:43 B. Steven Wilson: Didn't Queensland just increase royalties?
- 01:08:51 Di Wykes: @Pamela - why can't we have both?
- 01:09:02 Stephen Dunn: Happiest countries i.e. Scandanavian Tax to
- 01:09:04 Lynette Molyneaux: How do you change rules and regulation required when the judicial system has been stacked by ideologues?
- 01:09:08 Gina Rizakos: A good life is not an 'income producing life'. There is more to life than the dollar - our environment, the places we love and live in, our cultures. More value has to be placed on these in our 'economies'.
- 01:09:16 Kate Morris: The top 250 companies in Australia, avoids enough tax, each, every three months, to pay a Universal Basic Income for each and every Australia for 20 years. The resources are there. They are just not shared.
- 01:09:18 Steve Chapman: A Universal Basic Income to replace the majority of centrelink payments? Would restore dignity to many.
- 01:09:19 Judy SINGER: Its a disgrace that people are volunteering in record numbers, because they can't get jobs, that governments and businesses profit from this and use us, yet we continue to be abused by Centrelink
- 01:09:20 Stephen Dunn: GDP much higher than ours
- 01:09:26 Lachlan Kerwood-McCall: @Judy Singer absolutely, we need BOTH a right TO work and a right NOT to work. Hyman Minsky, one of the first advocates of a Government-as-Employer-of-Last-Resort, also advocated a 3-day weekend back in the 1960s!!
- 01:09:27 Rachel Hay: Read the Australia Institute's research on foreign investment here: <https://australiainstitute.org.au/wp-content/uploads/2022/06/LNG-Foreign-investment-in-Australia.pdf>
- 01:09:39 Pamela Collett: YES Steve... UBI and get rid of Centrelink
- 01:09:48 Dan Nahum: Banger of a paper, that one 😊
- 01:10:02 Kate Morris: @JudySinger totally on the money there!
- 01:10:12 William Gye: "History is the struggle about who and how much tax is paid"..
- 01:10:23 Kate Morris: It's a slave labour situation - working/volunteering for $2 hour

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

- 01:10:24 Peter McBeath: Norway has a nationalised resource sector
- 01:10:27 Jim Feehely: That more than 50% of the electorate people do not know where the interests actually lie. If you think your interests are aligned with mining corporations, you are seriously deluded.
- 01:10:39 Murray SAYLE: Tax the rich and not the poor
- 01:10:56 B. Steven Wilson: Norway's skyrocketing wealth is based on petroleum.
- 01:11:00 Judy SINGER: UBI for everyone, + a volunteer increment, and minimum wage increase 1 tier higher
- 01:11:00 Cate Cooper: Exactly @Jim
- 01:11:01 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Biden's big catch phrase has been no higher taxes on incomes below 400,000 which was a way to move the debate towards taxing wealth
- 01:11:17 Janet Grevillea: Judy Singer thank you!
- 01:11:25 Greg ("Darwin", Larrakia country, Australia): The invisible hand of the economy decides who gets the subsidies.
- ;-)
- 01:11:35 Lachlan Kerwood-McCall: @Pamela you have to have both a UBI and a Job Guarantee. A UBI without a JG means some people are forcibly kept out of work. A Job Guarantee without a UBI means the system still forces people INTO work.
- 01:11:37 Elizabeth Robinson: Spot on Ken
- 01:11:42 Jim Feehely: Nothing about neoliberalism is true or honest.
- 01:11:46 Darren Quinn: Well depends on how much public spending there is. Theoretically you can have more public spending & less taxing with no change in GDP or well-being or the public spending may improve it
- 01:12:04 Pamela Collett: OH perhaps I don't understand the Job Guarantee and how it would work
- 01:12:08 Di Wykes: Agree @Lachlan
- 01:12:13 Cate Cooper: Interesting point @Lachlan
- 01:12:32 Lachlan Kerwood-McCall: The Job Guarantee wage must be a living wage, not a volunteer increment. If we pay people to work, we must pay for their labour at the living minimum rate.
- 01:13:15 Murray SAYLE: Fire & Floods and record exports of coal and LNG Climate Madness
- 01:13:24 Kate Morris: $29 billion dollars of subsidies each year!
- 01:13:30 Cate Cooper: Any chance you're having a chat with our new government during your visit Joseph?

- 01:13:52 Manuela Malaguti: More money are needed to go into research and researchers.
- 01:13:53 Peter McBeath: Yes BS but they have invested in carbon storage in the forests of the world, whilst diversifying and implementing progressive climate policy.
- 01:14:03 B. Steven Wilson: Really the Australia Institute claims it's $11.6bn.
- 01:14:17 Rachel Hay: Read about the Australia Institute's research on fossil fuel subsidies here: <https://australiainstitute.org.au/report/fossil-fuel-subsidies-in-australia-2021-22/>
- 01:14:18 Sherryl Broderick: Hi hope Jim Chalmers is watching ;)
- 01:14:18 Fred Sim: Because more productive sectors eg Aged Care, Health Care, Transport, etc have a huge cost ie bigger workforce
- 01:14:20 Janet Grevillea: We need a webinar with speakers like Eva Cox.
- 01:14:24 Lachlan Kerwood-McCall: John Quiggin: "A UBI + a Job Guarantee = paid work as a meaningful CHOICE for all."
- 01:14:26 Greg ("Darwin", Larrakia country, Australia): We can't invest in education AND keep our "lucky" reputation we've gained through digging up and selling bits of someone else's home.
- 01:14:44 Simon Winchester: Neoliberalism is not an economic platform it is political and political for those who want to hold power.
- 01:14:49 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Fossil fuels multinationals had capture the Australian state through Murdoch Media/LNP/UAP total control
- 01:15:41 Peter McBeath: Spot on SW
- 01:15:41 B. Steven Wilson: That's around half a per cent of GDP?
- 01:15:43 Stephen Masters: Response to Simon Winchester: exactly!
- 01:16:02 Peter Thornton: Joseph and Richard, given the mobility of Capital, should the world adopt a system of tariffs (for want of a better term) to normalise labour costs across international boundaries?
- 01:16:10 Chris Twomey: TAI work on fossil fuel subsidies is here <https://australiainstitute.org.au/report/fossil-fuel-subsidies-in-australia-2021-22/>
- 01:16:14 Simon Winchester: Dimitra, add Labor to that as it were they who made our gas prices at the world price even though we own the gas in the first place.
- 01:16:23 Darren Quinn: UBI is just a welfare transfer payment. Instead of taxing it away, target the spending. It becomes a GBI or GMI that way. Much improved! Saves on bureaucracy.
- 01:16:23 Peter Davis: hear hear
- 01:16:28 Emma-Kate Rose: Australia disowned Murdoch a long time ago ;)

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

01:16:28 Kate Crawford: Let's stop subsidising fossil fuels. Upwards of 11.5 billion pa savings for other more productive investment.

01:16:29 Murray SAYLE: Foxnews Skynews

01:16:30 Carol Bailey: As David Attenborough has said there isn't a thing which couldn't be more easily solved with a lower population and less growth, yet no-one wants to address this elephant in the room. Carol Bailey

01:16:40 Rachele Streich: Rupert Murdoch media is like a cancer...can we tax them more?

01:16:46 eva cox: We need to remember that mainly powerful men invented this post agrarian mess. We need to start with looking at using knowledge to share the needed resources and survive civilly. We are destroying to make money can we work on the social interactions responsibilities for others not trading crap to deliver power and destruction? Time for feminist revolutions to re-create the communities where we share not market to meet needs.

01:16:50 Steve Chapman: Current fossil fuel subsidies would equal a UBI and Job Guarantee and we would get a society wide benefit.

01:16:55 Rudolf (Rudy) Blums: HEAR HEAR = MURDOCH IS A WORLD WIDE CANCER TO DEMOCRACY

01:17:00 B. Steven Wilson: Stiglitz wants to shut down media outlets he disagrees with?

01:17:02 Greg ("Darwin", Larrakia country, Australia): Somebody MUST read Rupert Murdoch's publications.

Who?

01:17:04 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Absolutely..Murdoch Royal Comm got over 500,000 signatures

01:17:24 Murray SAYLE: Foxnews and Skynews both rotten to the core

01:17:26 B. Steven Wilson: This AI paper is terrible.

01:17:27 Lynette Molyneaux: The best way to counteract Murdoch is to stop buying his papers and cable tv

01:17:32 William Gye: Yes .. apologies about inflicting Rupert M on the world

01:17:36 jennie Mills: Do you still have objections to universal basic income?

01:17:36 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Murdoch not a media outlet, its a propaganda machine

01:18:02 Elisa Bone: Murdoch 'news' publications are largely propped up by the sideline real estate interests.

01:18:04 B. Steven Wilson: It miscounts the Fuel Tax Credits Scheme as a subsidy.

01:18:08 Mitzi Tuke: ++Dimitra

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

- 01:18:27 Cate Cooper: There's a great browser add-on called 'Bye Rupert' that stops you opening any Murdoch owned content, and let me tell you that is heaps
- 01:18:28 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Murdoch was getting grants from LNP govts
- 01:18:34 Peter McBeath: Media outlet!!! BS
- 01:18:41 jennifer manson: Those with wealth gain from the spread of covid, having multiplied their income as a result. The more wealth ie billionaires, the greater the gain. Poorer people pay the most in costs of the virus.
- 01:18:42 B. Steven Wilson: That's $9.4bn of the $10.5bn in "subsidies".
- 01:18:46 Peter Davis: trump gone,morrison gone,johnson gone...all Murdoch picks
- 01:18:46 Kelli C: Thanks Cate!
- 01:18:47 Simon Winchester: I don't have a problem with Murdoch media - just that there is no alternative to see!
- 01:19:07 Suzanne Rogers: HOw will Job Guarentee work if we are also increasing robots to do our jobs? We have restaurants that have no chefs or staff - everything is 3D printed and delivered or customer pick-up. We have care robots in Aged care. We have robots in weapons and defence forces.... We have robots and computers replacing people in basic tasks through to creating economic strategies.
- 01:19:10 Jim Feehely: B. Steve Wilson, Joe Stiglitz disagrees with the BS published by News Corpse.
- 01:19:10 Dallas Elvery: Murdoch's real power lies in his ability to influence what news media are leading with, and the ability to feed their ideas down through social media
- 01:19:15 Jake Urlus: All great, until you started on the Covid vaccines - then you got onto thin ice, Professor! All the data increasingly shows the vaccines are nowhere near either as 'safe' or 'effective' as we were told. Indeed, paper just last week showing that the mRNA vaccines are net harmful for most of the population, in terms of serious adverse events....
- 01:19:34 Elisa Bone: Agree @Cate, Bye Murdoch a great add-in for, browsers
- 01:19:40 Steve Chapman: Murdoch's monopoly in many Australian states is the real problem
- 01:19:41 Chris Twomey: Great study on disinformation and epistemic risk here <https://www.turing.ac.uk/research/publications/tackling-threats-informed-decision-making-democratic-societies>
- 01:19:42 jennifer manson: Simon, what's wrong with the ABC the Guardian, the Saturday Paper and numerous other media?
- 01:19:53 Philip Kalogeras: got a link Jake? Im seeing the exact opposite on pubmed
- 01:19:56 Chris Twomey: See also <https://www.cser.ac.uk/>
- 01:20:01 Manuela Malaguti: Murdoch lives happily ever after in the USA.

- 01:20:22 Kate Carruthers: Thanks - great session :)
- 01:20:25 B. Steven Wilson: Yeah, were the severe recession from lockdown worth the cost?
- 01:20:36 Paul Allen: Thanks Chris Twomey
- 01:20:53 Kelli C: Glad that you addressed that Jake - no topic should remain undebatable, taboo and if there is such a topic - alarm bells should be heard publicly!
- 01:21:15 Vivienne Porzsolt: what recession?
- 01:21:33 Anssi Paatero: Much appreciate your shares @Chris Twomey
- 01:21:33 William Gye: The inbuilt Windows newsfeed on my desktop seems to be a channel for Sky News (WTF!)
- 01:21:39 Peter Thornton: The wage subsidy scheme was essentially a UBI. It proves that UBI would work, because the economy went gang busters
- 01:21:45 Elisa Bone: lockdowns cost far less than mass death and disability
- 01:21:56 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Here here Mr STiglitz...Aus had a infectious diseases govt body and LNP govt dismantled it
- 01:21:58 Kate Morris: Taiwan had 16 years for their pandemic office.
- 01:22:13 Manuela Malaguti: The Australian Government - public health - was completely UNPREPARED for covid-19 etc..
- 01:22:24 Murray SAYLE: #GOPTaliban
- 01:22:28 Di Wykes: @B.Steven - the population is paying the price of the pandemic now 1000 deaths every 3 weeks and cases exploding.
- 01:22:31 Darren Quinn: Always need strategic stockpiles (buffer stocks)
- 01:22:44 Mithrani Mahadeva: ❤️👊
- 01:22:49 Gina Rizakos: Don't forget that parliament sat three times to legislate to exclude university workers (mostly casual academics) from JobKeeper during the 2020? It forced people to depend on partners, friends, families, their super, their savings during a critical stressful time in the pandemic.
- 01:23:16 Simon Winchester: Just in Time management where death is the cost of not getting it just Right
- 01:23:30 B. Steven Wilson: Can someone please ask a challenging question, love-ins are incredibly boring.
- 01:23:38 Steve Chapman: Yes it appeared that the pandemic economic response was mainly a political response
- 01:23:47 Dimitra Adamopoulos: Global neoliberal govts serving corporate masters and dismantling govt except where it suits them

Recorded live on 11th June 2022

- 01:23:59 Cate Cooper: Think you're on the wrong webinar B. Steven
- 01:24:05 Kate Morris: Sweden didn't give their elderly oxygen, they gave them morphine. Involuntary euthanasia as discussed by Prof Raina MacIntyre.
- 01:24:06 Elisa Bone: put your challenging question into the Q&A, @BS
- 01:24:21 Paul Allen: What question you ask B. Steven?
- 01:24:23 B. Steven Wilson: I want to see what the left has to offer and I'm very disappointed.
- 01:24:40 Kate Crawford: Yes please ask questions.
- 01:24:48 Anssi Paatero: Steven Wilson, the stage is yours
- 01:24:48 Simon Winchester: Is democracy the answer - doesn't seem to be working at present.
- 01:24:51 Di Wykes: @Elisa 😊
- 01:24:54 B. Steven Wilson: Throughout the duration of the Cold War, Soviet GDP never exceeded 6 per cent of US GDP, doesn't this point to the failure of central planning, big government and failures of government. How do we avoid repeating those mistakes?
- 01:24:54 jennifer manson: The pandemic isn't over. Our health systems are overwhelmed, staff shortages have caused services in many areas to be worse and dysfunctional. Joseph the pandemic is still here.
- 01:25:13 Jim Feehely: BS, too appalled at some common sense that you can't think of a 'challenging' question? Got ya hardest turbo.
- 01:25:40 Paul Allen: B. Steven's Dorothy Dixter...
- 01:25:41 Kate Morris: The pandemic is definitely not over. The newest version has a R = 18.
- 01:25:41 Carol Bailey: Our 'support network' may yet fail as in South Australia we no longer have 'mental institutions' and caring for people in situ is not working well - not for the mentally ill, nor for those living around them.
- 01:25:44 Stephen Nolan: A positive of the pandemic was showing us the true fragility of a neoliberal economic system. It has initiated an ideological shift, and people aren't standing for exploitation anymore.
- 01:26:05 Lachlan Kerwood-McCall: @Suzanne RE robots, there's still a tonne of work that robots aren't doing now, or won't be able to do for a very long time, or may never be able to do. Aged care, landcare and environmental rehabilitation are examples. Also, historically whenever we've mechanised or automated some work, we've ultimately found other work for people to do instead. Imagine telling a worker 400 years ago, when 98% of workers worked on farms, that eventually only 2% of the workforce would be working on farms because of modern farm machinery. They'd ask "what the hell are all those people doing, if not growing food?" If you replied "working in offices, cafes, nursing homes and massage therapies”, they’d ask “what the hell are those?” The problem is how you help workers in the meantime.

01:26:16 Effie Sioras: Hear hear @Stephen Nolan

01:26:27 Cate Cooper: Agree @Stephen. lets hope we don't forget

01:26:31 B. Steven Wilson: You mean ... Trump's vaccines?

01:26:42 Kenneth Duffield: A Universal basic income - is this inevitable?

01:26:46 jennifer manson: Public health measures? Not here.

01:26:55 B. Steven Wilson: Trump fast-tracked the vaccines.

01:27:17 Mitzi Tuke: --while ingesting bleach

01:27:21 Effie Sioras: @kenneth, only if the public continue to advocate for it.

01:27:22 Colin Wedd: Trump also suggested we ingest bleach

01:27:24 jennifer manson: True BS, but in the meantime many died.

01:27:53 Brian O'Farrell: I suspect australia has a large number of hidden unemployed/underemployed comprising people with savings that are ineligible for jobseeker support - these do not show up in the stats

01:28:09 Liz Ryan: Thank you so much Prof Stiglitz., for a wonderful thoughtful discussion and all your good work. And many thanks Richard, Ebony and Aust Inst. for your commitment to a better Australia

01:28:09 Elisa Bone: lockdowns were rough but showed us that we CAN reconnect with our local community, can decentralize our activities and economies, can have a healthier work-life balance. BUT, this doesn't suit the neoliberal capitalist agenda. Hence we're back schlepping goods and COVID around

01:28:10 Rachel Hay: Thanks to all for joining us today and for participating in a fascinating discussion! If you’d like to read more about the Australia Institute’s economic research you can do so here: <https://australiainstitute.org.au/research/?branch=economics>

01:28:39 Lenka Thompson: Brilliant! Thank you

01:28:39 Liz Winfield: ty:)

01:28:40 Kate Morris: Follow the money?

01:28:40 Michael Cooney: Good stuff.

01:28:40 Julia Harley: Great discussion thank you

01:28:40 Jen Sinclair: Thanks

01:28:41 John Haberecht: Brilliant!

01:28:42 John Watson: Thank you all !!

01:28:42 Greg Heard: Thank you. Great session.

01:28:43 Jean-Paul Vernon: Thanks for the talk

01:28:45 Jim Feehely: Thanks Richard & Joe and everyone except BS!

01:28:46 Rachele Streich: Thank you. very reassuring!

01:28:48 robert butterfield: Thank you

01:28:50 Michael Kennedy: Thanks for an excellent discussiin and lots but not all, many great comments.

01:28:53 Murray SAYLE: Thank you

01:28:54 Mitzi Tuke: Yes, looking forward to it!

01:28:56 Colin Wedd: thanks

01:28:58 Peter McBeath: Thank you kind regards Joe Stig!

01:28:59 Matthew Washington: Great discussion thank you !

01:28:59 Steve Rakic: Thanks so much TIA and Prof Stilitz
