

ANNE KANTOR & ANNE KANTOR YOUNG WOMEN ENVIRONMENTALIST FELLOWSHIPS

- Do you want to be part of an organisation that has an impact on important legal and public policy debates?
- Would you like to learn about how to address complex problems with people who know how to make a real difference?
- Are you curious about how to undertake research that can change minds?

The Anne Kantor Fellowship is a unique program providing paid training positions to develop new voices in Australia's policy and democratic debates. Named after the philanthropist and trailblazer, Anne Kantor, our fellowships support, train, and nurture the next generation of change-makers.

During the 12-month fellowship, you will learn how to undertake research and advocacy, turn ideas into reality, and gain a broad understanding of how public policy gets made in Australia. You will also assist with social media, event coordination and administrative work.

The fellowship is based in Canberra.

About us

The Australia Institute is Australia's leading independent think-tank. We produce high-quality, timely research with impact across a broad range of economic, social, accountability and environmental issues.

We are fiercely non-partisan, but we don't shy away from engaging in debates on ideas. We believe in a healthy democracy, and our work is designed to foster a better, more informed democratic debate.

What we offer

- ✓ The unique opportunity to gain on-the-job training in research, advocacy and media.
- ✓ Mentorship to guide and inspire you.
- ✓ Membership of a diverse and interconnected community of advocates and change-makers, providing a lifetime of invaluable connections and collaborations.
- ✓ $60,000 per annum, plus super and a $2,000 allowance if relocating from interstate to take up the position.

Who we seek

We are on the lookout for exceptional candidates who embody Anne Kantor's visionary spirit. Ideal fellows should possess:

- ✓ A track record of excellence: Candidates should have a proven history of academic or professional achievements that demonstrate their commitment to making a difference.
- ✓ Passion and purpose: We seek individuals with a burning passion for their field of interest and a clear vision of how they can positively impact society.

- ✓ Innovation and creativity: We value bold thinkers who are not afraid to challenge the status quo and come up with innovative solutions to complex problems.
- ✓ Collaboration and empathy: The Anne Kantor Fellowship is built on a foundation of collaboration and empathy. Fellows should be adept at working with diverse teams and building meaningful relationships.
- ✓ Familiarity with Microsoft products including Word and Excel.
